Terms—Two Dollars a Year.

Court Week.

The regular May Term of the District Court commenced its session at Chicago City, on Tuesday last, and completed it on Thursday. The case which principally occupied the time of the court, was Oliver Wilcox ag't Plummer & Willis, regarding certain saw logs. The jury failed to agree and the case was continued.

The case of Wm. Dobany and Levi Stewart ag't Levi Folsom, concerning the driving of certain logs, was settled.

Joseph Blackburn ag't Patrick Fox and wife, concerning a tax title. To be argued at Stillwater, June term.

S. I. Smith ag't Jordan & Mathews, argued and submitted.

We did not learn the result of the case of the county ag't W. H. O. Folsom on the Bounty Tax question.

This is the amount of the May term of court—the County, out five hundred dollars at least, with comparatively nothing accomplished. Would not one term of Court a year answer the purposes of justice as well as two, is a question of interest to tax-payers.

CHESAPEAKE CITY.—During the session of Court, the "Seat" presented its liveliest aspect, all the necessary attaches being there in force.

The hotel formerly kept by Mr. McAvoy has changed hands, and is now under the supervision of Mrs. H. Porter. Mr. Geo. Nathan has his stove mill in full operation, giving employment to a score of hands. This mill is complete in every detail. None but the very best material is used here, and the Chicago City Mills have a reputation for an extra article of staves and barrel heading. About two million staves will be manufactured here this season.

The location for this town is beautiful but we fear the "Great Expectations" will not be realized—at present.

FROM FAMOUS.—The freight tariff this season is much higher than heretofore, whether justly or not seems to be a question. As we are not informed as to what of steamboating, we cannot decide, but are of the opinion that our merchants ought and would be willing to allow any reasonable advance, provided it would ensure a regular boat during the entire season. As the trade on the lake and river is now divided into two separate branches, there will be times when the steamboat business will be exceedingly dull, which, taken in connection with the difficulties they have to contend during low water, may warrant the present rates.

DEATH OF HON. SOCRATES NELSON.—A Stillwater correspondent of the Saint Paul Press, of the 7th inst., writes:—Our people were shocked yesterday by the announcement of the sudden, although not unexpected, death of Hon. Socrates Nelson. The deceased had been confined to his room for several weeks with an incurable disease of the lungs Mr. Nelson has been a resident of Stillwater for over 24 years. As a member of the firm of Churchill & Nelson, he was early engaged in the lumber business, having a large saw mill located at Baytown. The firm was also among the pioneer merchants of this valley, and also dealt largely in furs. Mr. Nelson was a heavy property owner in and about the city most of it having been purchased of Government at an early day. He had been several times a member of the State Legislature, and was a firm adherent of the old-time principles of the Democratic faith. The deceased was 52 years of age.

WILLING.—An exchange tells of a new dance called the "Kiss Cotillion," in which the gentleman always kisses the lady as they swing the corners. We are not "hefty" on dancing, but are willing to take a corner in that figure.

FARMING.—One of the great evils of the times is the striking disproportion of men engaged in merchandising and in the professions, instead of agricultural pursuits. What the country needs is more farmers and fewer dull tradesmen, and unqualified professionals.

The independence of tilling the soil is neglected for the uncertainties of life in the towns, and men wonder as they pay fifty per cent more than they used to for every thing they eat.

For the future, farming is going to be the most profitable, as well as the most truly dignified pursuit that a young man can engage in, and those who forsake the broad acres and pure air of the country for toiling offices and worrying stores of the towns and cities, are to be pitied. —Rochester Republican.

The Rochester Republican has ceased to exist as an independent journal. It has been merged in the Rochester Post.

A SAD SIGHT.—A well dressed female was arrested last evening on Third street while in a state of gross intoxication, and taken to the lock up.—Saint Paul Pioneer, May 8.

Not less than five thousand immigrants have arrived at Winona and passed over the Winona & St. Peter Railroad, or up the river within the past few days.

On Friday evening last, Cassius Lobster, clerk of the steamer "St. Anthony Falls," was drowned off of that steamer while a few miles above Mendota on her way to Mankato.

In Minnesota there are seventy Congregational Churches, one hundred Baptist, and about as many Methodist. Presbyterians and Episcopal Churches are found at most important points.

WHEAT SALE.—A. J. Lamberton has sold his stock of wheat on hand, consisting of 13,000 bushels, to John Robison of Winona. Col. Pratt shipped 1,000 bushels of flour on steamer Flora this morning.—ib.

A sad accident occurred at Swan Lake yesterday Wm. Buchanan and Jonas P. Helmsborg, of this township, were in a canoe fishing, sometime during the day while thus engaged, a strong gust wind swept over the lake, and neither of the unfortunate men being accustomed to the management of boats, their frail bark was upset and its occupants thrown into the lake and drowned.—St. Peter Tribune May 1st.

WM. F. DAVIDSON, President of the Northwestern Packet Co., has loaned the farmers of Blue Earth and adjacent counties 20,000 bushels of seed wheat. This will enable them to put in a crop from which they will in due time reap a bountiful harvest. All that Mr. Davidson requires in return, for this act of generosity, is the return, after harvest of his wheat, bushel for bushel.

MURDER.—A horrid murder was committed at Dundas, Rice County. On Tuesday, a man named Hoyt attacked one Mr. Stamford with an ax: cutting and mangled him in a most horrid manner. After killing Mr. Stamford, he attempted to kill his wife, but was overpowered by her two sons. The desperate villain is now lodged in Faribault jail.

There is no one thing that helps to establish a man's character and standing in society more than a steady attendance at church, and a proper regard for the first day of the week. Every head of a family should go to church as an example. Lounging in the streets and barrooms is abominable, and deserves censure, because it lays the foundation of habits which ruin both body and soul. Many a man can date the commencement of dissipation which made him a burden to himself and his friends, and an object of pity, in the sight of his enemies to his Sunday debauchery.

STRICTLY LAW.—A law was passed at the recent session of the Wisconsin legislature, making the driving of spikes or iron into sawlogs and timber intended for sawing, a felony, and punishment in the State prison.

It is said that Ristori will make about $200,000 by her American tour.

ROBIN'S RETURN.

There's not a green blade yet
Where with a breezy play
The bare brown earth is wet
With the rain of yesterday.
But out on the apple-bough
A round nest sweet with rain
Hark to the overture—
Robin's come again.

Now on the mountain side
Never a leaf on tree,
News a spring to him
A brook where a note might be
A tiny mouse and blue
Robin's come again.

O Robin, he can sing
When a dove can thrive;
Musician of the Spring,
The blithest thing alive:
The March winds and the snow
Over the gray grain,
A summer day of rest
Robin's come again!

The white he carolled,
On hawthorn's leafy green,
We almost felt the breath
Of the cool breeze on our face,
He sang the songs we knew,
The cheerful, gleeful, true;
Oh, old friends are the true—
Robin's come again.

BOATING LIFE AT OXFORD.

As few people, in all probability, know what is meant by a "bump" of a boat, well to begin with a brief explanation of that rather unattractive term. There are two periods of the year at which races regularly take place between the eight-oared boats of the various colleges in Oxford, namely, March and May. In May, crews formed of the best eight men that can be got together out of each college, and called providence the "Eight," race against each other for the leadership of the river, or strive to come as near it as they may. In March the racing of the second best boats takes place; these boats are the "Torps." Why so called none can tell; the origin of the name is veiled in mystery, which is not surprising, considering the present rivalry to attempt to penetrate. No one who has rowed in his college eight of the previous year is allowed to row in a Torp, so that the Torps are formed chiefly of the fresh blood of the year, and as showing what is the new material in each college the Torps are considered a peculiar interest for the rowing community of Oxford. So much for explanation, which, however necessary, is likely to be dull. I shall now proceed with the history of the St. Anthony's Torp for the year 18—

We had always been proud of our Torp; I say "we," for, though at the time I speak of I was but a freshman, I felt myself part of the traditions of the college, and a good Torp was one of the oldest. Whatever our pick of men might be, whatever had luck we might have—and we had our share—we had always worked hard and made the best of it; and we could, and often did say with pride that none since we put on a Torp had failed so low as to take it off. The year before I came up to St. Anthony's, our boat had moved up from ninth to fifth on the river, and the prowess of the crew was well remembered at every festive gathering of the college.

This year, however, our prospects were not of the brightest; our best man had been drafted into the eight, and the freshmen of the year were not a promising lot; or, according to Baxter, who, like most men, inclined to a desponding view of things, "no good at all." "Why, look here, young 'un," I heard him say to the more sanguine Tip, "I coached that big lubber Wilkinson every day last term, and made something of him, and all he does now is to put his oar in deep, and pull it out with a jerk."

"Well but, my dear fellow," returned Tip, "all that bone and muscle must be got to work somehow, and I'm sure the man's willing. I'll give him a little, just think what an awful duffer you were yourself when you came to row; by Jove, I shall never forget the look on your old face when Thornhill was pitching into you for not keeping your arms straight!"

"No more of that, Tip, or I'll scrag you," replied Baxter, as if in a mischievous mood of his first essay in rowing; "I'll have an other turn at the big duffer, but it's my belief the boat will be bumped three times, and with the crew we've got at present. Come along; it is time we were down at the barge."

From the time when Thornhill resigned, and said good-bye, the boating spirit had entered deeply into my soul, and a strong resolve that I would persevere and hard work could do it, I would some day be a good oar. I had learned something about the handling of an oar on the river near my own home, and by dint of hard practice and plenty of coaching achieved at last what was the best of me. I had my heart, a place in the St. Anthony's Torp. Wingfield, being by far the lightest man in the college, was picked to sit in the stern, and his quickness and self-confidence were indispensable in a coxswain, was learning the art of steering, and was prettily to keep his position in the stern of the boat.

It wanted now three weeks to the first day of the races, and I was seated in the window of my room, which was on the ground-floor, peering away at Euphrates for the "smalls" that loomed in the distance, when I was aware of a knock at the door. Baxter, talking at a short distance from me.

"Have you considered, old man," began Baxter, "that it only wants three weeks to the races, and the Torp is not made up yet?"

"Yes, I know, replied Hallett, "it's an awkward state of things; the men ought to go into training to-morrow, but it's no use without having the crew settled, and especially stroke."

"Just so," said Baxter, rather indistinctly, for he had a cigar in his mouth. "Well, what's to be done? We must get somebody; there's Wilkinson would do well enough for five; I must say he's turned out better than ever I expected, and Vere is pretty good at six, and Hilton makes a fair two, but none of them would do stroke."

"Well, there's young Maynard," observed Hallett, reflectively; at that I picked up my oars, and Euphrates and smalls vanished into thin air. "He's not the best oar in the boat," continued Hallett, "but he has the most pluck and go about him of any; suppose we try him to-day. Whereabouts does he hang out?"

"Hullo!" he went on, in a low tone, "isn't that his name over the door? If he's in, he must have heard all we have been saying." With that he knocked, and both entered.

"Good morning, Maynard; I expect you heard what Baxter and I were talking about outside." I turned rather red, and confessed I had. "Well," said Hallett, "you see we want you to row stroke to-day, and if you get on all right we'll begin training to-morrow."

"You mustn't be surprised, you know," said Baxter, "if you're sent back to your old place."

"Oh, of course not," replied I, meekly, "but I'll do the best I can to keep my place at stroke."

"All right," returned Hallett, "said you're down in time—three o'clock sharp, you know," and he and Baxter left the room.

I remember, as if it were yesterday, the feeling of mingled pride and misgiving with which I stepped into the boat that afternoon to row stroke. I felt as if the river would be watching every turn of my oar, and as the boat went swimming down the stream, I fancied I could hear the voices on the barges saying to each other, "Here comes St. Anthony's; so they've got a stroke at last; wonder what he's like!" Baxter's voice on the bank called to my senses. "Not so quick, stroke!" "Keep your oar steady!" "You're missing the beginning!" and so on, at intervals, all the way down.

At fifty we turned and began to row up. Hallett and Baxter, not to be shaken off, kept up a raking fire from the bank. "Put your back into it, five!" "Mind the time, three!" "Slowly forward two!" "Hullo, Wingfield, mind what you're about; look ahead, steer in shore; by Jove there'll be a smash!" "Look ahead!" said Wingfield, suddenly jumping up in the utmost excitement. "Easy, all! Hold her!"

In another second we felt a shock all through the boat; there was a crash of oars, and we were pitched head first into the water.

"I—can't—swim," panted Wingfield, as he came to the surface, and before I could seize him, disappeared again. In a few seconds the small head rose once more, and this time I managed to grasp the little man by the collar, and with some trouble got him astride of the boat, which lay bottom up on the river bank. "Hullo, Wingfield, what's the matter?" "I—I—can't—swim," panted Wingfield, as he came to the surface, and before I could seize him, disappeared again. In a few seconds the small head rose once more, and this time I managed to grasp the little man by the collar, and with some trouble got him astride of the boat, which lay bottom up on the river bank.

"Hullo, Wingfield, what's the matter?" "I—I—can't—swim," panted Wingfield, as he came to the surface, and before I could seize him, disappeared again. keeper on the bank, and the words were echoed all along the line of boats. "Plenty of time," said Hallett, who held the stern-ropes, ready to pay it out at the last minute. "Keep your oars steady!" "You're missing the beginning!" and so on, at intervals, all the way down.

At fifty we turned and began to row up. Hallett and Baxter, not to be shaken off, kept up a raking fire from the bank. "Put your back into it, five!" "Mind the time, three!" "Slowly forward two!" "Hullo, Wingfield, mind what you're about; look ahead, steer in shore; by Jove there'll be a smash!" "Look ahead!" said Wingfield, suddenly jumping up in the utmost excitement. "Easy, all! Hold her!"

In another second we felt a shock all through the boat; there was a crash of oars, and we were pitched head first into the water.

"I—can't—swim," panted Wingfield, as he came to the surface, and before I could seize him, disappeared again. AGRICULTURAL ITEMS.

PAINT ALL TOOLS EXPOSED TO THE weather, and if with a light-colored paint they will last, warp and crack less in the sun.

WINTERING CATTLE.—A correspondent of the Northwestern Farmer advises adding a pound of tallow or lard to each half-bushel of lime used in whitewashing.

YIELD OF POTATOES.—Among the large yields of potatoes recently reported, is one from Canada, to the effect that two peach bushes, cut into sets, produced two bushels of large, sound potatoes.

M. F. DONALD, of Berlin, sends us the following: To keep a cow from leaving her milk, take an India rubber cord and tie it up small enough to compress the teat and place it on near the end.

EXPLODED.—A correspondent of the American Stock Journal contradicts the story which has been copied into many agricultural papers, that the South American shepherds dogs are brought up by being suckled by ewes, and that they are very wild and dangerous. The result of his experience is that country dogs are to be killed one occasionally.

Opinions of a Farmer.

I am near fifty years old, was always a farmer, as were my ancestors, as far back as I can trace. My opinions are formed on experience and experiments that satisfy me, whether they others or not.

OPINION I.—Hay should be cut when in full bloom, as all

Local and Miscellaneous.

SATURDAY, May 18, 1884.

Many parties started up river this week to explore for pine timber.

Persons are enured that Wm. S. Humphrey, formerly of St. Croix Falls, has "shuffled off this mortal coil."

A Millinery shop has been established in the building formerly used as an eating house, nearly opposite our office.

Mr. A. N. Hout has about completed an addition to his boarding house on the hill.

BALTIMORE MILL.—C. A. Winslow, proprietor of the saw mill at Balsam Lake, has purchased a large amount of mill appliances, at Minneapolis, and is giving his mill a general overhauling.

THIRTY NEWS.—The Pioneer makes her tri-weekly trips with commendable regularity. Clerk Sevey has moved his family to this place. He knows the benefits of Taylor's Falls society.

S. S. FINEBUD, Jr., and wife, came up on the Pioneer last Thursday.

D. F. Campbell, of Galena, and Dan Smith, of St. Louis, also arrived on the same boat.

WABASH HERALD.—Friends Daggett & Rose have enlarged their Herald to a thirty-six column sheet. The Herald is a "standard sheet" and as such may it forever stand.

We would call attention of the proper authorities to an ugly hole in the bridge near N. C. D. Taylor's block on the hill. Heavy damages may result from a neglect to repair it.

I. O. G. T.—The Grand Lodge commenced its annual session at Northfield, on Tuesday last, the 14th inst. N. M. Humphrey, Esq., and wife attended as delegates from the lodge at this place.

MOONLIGHT.—The nights are now beautiful. Pale Luna reigns a very queen. Love lorn lads and lasses will feel grateful for this passing notice of their shrine.

FIRE.—Both prairie and timber fires have raged to some extent this season, but owing to the amount of rain that has fallen, they have been kept within such bounds as to do no very great damage.

SOLD OUT.—Dr. J. B. Griswold has sold out his store building opposite the Chicago House to D. A. Canaday. The stock of drugs he disposed of to Dr. Geo. Murdock.

JOHN WADE, Esq., and several other men, with their families, from the Southern part of Illinois, have settled near Balsam Lake. A few more such additions would help out that section of the country.

FILLED UP.—Every house in town is occupied. Not one "to let." Some one would do well, we should judge, to supply the great want of tenants and dwelling houses by erecting a few for these purposes. What say you lumbermen? Won't it pay?

CONSIDERABLE rain has fallen during the past ten days. The St. Croix at this place keeps at a good stage for driving and steamboating purposes. Some of the upper tributaries are however quite low for want of rain, and we hear of many drives that have "hung up" for the present.

FOR EUNORS.—The Rev. J. Q. Hall, and Dr. E. D. Whiting left town the first of the week for a few months tour in Europe. They intend to sail from New York on Tuesday the 23rd inst. The Rev. B. A. Kemp will supply Mr. Hall's pulpit at this place during his absence.

SHORTEST MAIL.—This much neglected route, which was discontinued by the Department last year has been reinstated and the contract let to Ben Wilkes of Sunrise. The contract is for a semi-weekly, Tuesdays and Saturdays being mail days. Mr. Wilkes commences his service on the first Tuesday in July.

GARDENS.—Those of our citizens who are favored with a garden spot, have for the past week been busily engaged in preparing and planting it. The season thus far has been cold and backward. Yet it is a negligible fact, such a season prefigures a goodly harvest. Farmers report the wheat crop in good condition and growing finely and are mutually hopeful. We trust they may not be disappointed.

OSCAR E. DODGE, the celebrated vocalist is married. An old dodge and a good one, also a precursor of other little dodges.

Some of our merchants are away replenishing their spring stocks. Others are constantly in receipt of goods, thus keeping up a fine assortment. Taylors Falls is the best place for bargains in the St. Croix Valley.

FLOUR.—The article of flour appears to be rapidly assuming "panic prices." The great drain upon the stock of wheat and flour during last fall and winter in shipping to eastern markets begins to tell. We hear of sales made as high as $16, "and the Lord only knows" what figures it will touch before another harvest.

Advertising and its Rewards.

A volume could not tell the instances of men of small means acquiring princely fortunes through faithful advertising, though probably the records of their gratitude would not make a big book.

The following, however, in an illustration of both business sagacity and generous appreciation well worthy of remembrance:

"A celebrated wholesale merchant in London, England, has presented the proprietors of the newspaper called the Telegraph with a printing press worth $25,000, as a token of appreciation. In doing so he accompanied the gift by a letter, which said: 'in your paper, by judicious advertising, I first built the foundation of a fortune—and in your paper, by judicious advertising, I have amassed the fortune which enables me to offer this testimony of regard and good will.'"

Improvement of the Minnesota, Captain Davis, the engineer who made the survey of the Minnesota river, last fall, visited our village last Saturday, and from him we learn that the Congressional appropriation for the improvement of that stream to be expended this summer in the removal of the snags and bars.

The snags will be taken from that stream, and doubtless the navigation will be materially improved thereby.

The total amount of the appropriation is $37,500, and it will be expended as follows: Below the Rapids, $1,500; Between Rapids and Mankato, 15,000; Above Mankato, 21,000.

Captain Davis will probably have charge of the work which will be commenced as soon as the river regains its natural level.

The Captain is quite confident that an additional appropriation will be secured sufficient to permanently improve the river. To do so several locks and dams will be necessary—one at the rapids, another at or about Mankato, and one or more above this place, the estimated cost of which is about $225,000.

1. Section 16 and 36 in each and every township for the use of Schools.
2. Seventy-two sections for the use and support of a State University.
3. Ten entire sections for the purpose of erecting State buildings.
4. All the salt springs in the State, not exceeding twelve in number, with six sections of land adjoining, or as contiguous as may be, for the use of the State, as the Legislature may direct.
5. The whole of those swamp and overflowed lands made unfit thereby for cultivation, of which there are 721,204 acres.

Wisconsin Editors' Annual Session.

The Eleventh Annual Session of the Wisconsin Editors' and Publishers' Association will convene at Sparta, Wis., on Tuesday, June 18th, 1867.

On Wednesday morning, 19th June, the Convention will leave Sparta for an excursion, via La Crosse, Winona, and Rochester to Minneapolis and St. Paul, arriving at the latter place on the afternoon of Thursday 20th, for a social reunion with the Minnesota Editorial Association.

The Postmaster General has decided to dispense with the official publication of the lists of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffices throughout the country. The reason assigned for this is that but a very small percentage of the letters is called for, and that the expense of advertising is a loss to the government.

The Right Worthy Grand Lodge of North America, Supreme head of the Independent Order of Good Templars, will hold their next annual session in Detroit, commencing about the last week in May.

Horace Greeley says that the darkest day in any man's earthly career is that wherein he first fancies that there is some easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it.

Fifty million feet of pine logs have been driven down the Eau Claire river, Wisconsin, this season.

It is thought that $1,500,000 worth of mining machinery will be set to Montana this summer.

The city of Minneapolis, is very prosperous. Several hundred new buildings will be put up this season.

The Springfield Republican says, "with trichinae in our meat, wrigglers in our water, and the constabulary in our liquor, we shall have a pretty time of it."

Work has commenced on the Hastings & Decatur Railroad.

The Hudson Times gives a humorous account of the drawing of the Great Steamboat Gift Enterprise in that place. The article is rich in local hits.

Ed. A. Stevens, of the Tidbits [Pa.] Journal, advises for a partner. He is well known in the St. Croix Valley as "Rasins."

A paper mill is to be erected on the Vermilion, at Hastings at a cost of $45,000.

The Northfield Recorder comes to us this week greatly enlarged and improved.

LAUREN.—The large and splendid barge, built by Talboys & Staples, was successfully launched at the Boat Yard last Friday. If there is a better barge afloat on the Upper Mississippi, we would like to see it.—Palm Co. Press.

Local and Miscellaneous.

SATURDAY, May 25, 1866.

A SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT.

This morning about eight o'clock, two men, John Leaf and Magnus Nelson, were endeavoring to lead a cow into town, by tying her behind a wagon, and while Nelson drove the team Mr. Leaf attempted to drive the cow, but when between the farms of Mr. Morton and Mr. Stannard, about one mile from town, the cow became fractious, and jumped to one side of the road striking Mr. Leaf in the side. Feeling weak he told Mr. Nelson to drive on and he would soon feel better and follow, but he immediately fell to the ground and expired in a few seconds. Mr. Nelson then came to town for assistance, in hopes of being able to resuscitate the body, and returned with Dr. Griswold who pronounced the man dead. The body was then brought to town, and, at the urgent request of his friends, another examination was held by Drs. Murdoch & Griswold, who both concurred in the former decision. Mr. Leaf, has for some time been subject to fits from over exertion or a sudden blow. Last July he fell to the ground, while ascending the hill in front of the M. E. Church. He was taken into the house of S. S. Hamilton, and soon recovered. Soon after this while in a hurry to get aboard of a steambark it was about to depart from the levee he fell senseless to the deck, but was soon restored. Drs. Murdoch & Griswold both agree in the opinion that his death was caused by disease of the heart, the sudden shock and fright being the immediate exciting cause.

River News.—The river is coming up quite rapidly at this point. Snake river water in conjunction with the recent rains is the probable cause of this rise. Steamboats and lumbermen are in high spirits at the good prospect.

Now arrangements have been inaugurated in the steambark business. The G. H. Gray will hereafter run tri-weekly from here to St. Paul and intermediate points. The first trip up by the new arrangement was made on Wednesday. Capt. Herick and Clerk De Mors do the honors. Capt. Herick is a popular St. Croixian that needs no commendation from us. De Mors is an able and experienced Clerk, courteous and gentlemanly and understands his "biz" thoroughly. Rags Bailey and Bob Hill can be found on every deck, ready and willing to do the fair thing by all. With as neat and well officered a craft as the Gray, the denizens of this little burgh cannot but be well suited.

Last Thursday the staunch and fast running steamer G. B. Knapp, arrived at our levee. The Knapp has fulfilled her contract with De Haven's Circus, and "peace and quiet now reigns throughout her borders." Hank McCourt takes to steambarking "like a duck to water," and has become thoroughly domiciled in the clerk's office, and exerts himself, as in days gone by, at the "Pioneer Store," to do the fair thing by all who deal with him. Hank and Capt. Knapp, are "pretty much of a machine," and will put the G. B. (gray boat) through on "time." The Knapp will run tri-weekly from this place to St. Paul, on alternate days with the G. H. Gray.

The Pioneer has been making its regular tri-weekly trips to Stillwater. Its excellent freighting facilities have been well tested this season. Those excellent officers Capt. Storer and Clerk Sevey are indefatigable in their efforts to satisfy the public.

The Minnie will arrive and depart last Monday. She brought up a load of corn from Lyons, Iowa, consigned to D. A. Canaday.

MISSING.—SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED.—By persons who arrived from To-togatic, a few days ago, we learn that Newman Ewings, in the employ of Warren Wiley, as cook for a crew of men engaged in driving, has disappeared rather mysteriously. It is supposed that he fell into the river and was drowned, while carrying luncheon to the men who were at work some distance from the camp on the opposite side of the river. He served long and faithfully in the first Minnesota Battery.

By dint of hard labor, far sightedness, close questioning, and careful sifting, we traced the rumor of the death of Wm. S. Hungerford, to its foundation, and find that it arose from a published notice of the death of a girl from St. Croix Falls, by the name of "Ronda," who was living with his family at Monticello, Ill.

The logs from Snake river were coming in so rapidly this morning the Gray was unable to reach the upper levee. She discharged her freight at Folsom's mill and hired teams to deliver it to our merchants.

HER PRIZE.—Wanted at the express office this morning a box of hen's eggs, marked for shipment to Iowa Falls, one hundred and fifty miles west of Dubuque, Ia. These eggs are the product of a superior breed of hens, kept by Mr. Calkins of St. Croix Falls, and were ordered by the parties to whom they were consigned, they having seen notices of the premiums awarded by the Polk Co. Agricultural Society for the past two years. The fact of persons living so far distant, ordering eggs from this "hyperborean" region, may induce others to give such attention to the subject as will increase the number of good hens and give a better realization of their value.

CANNING MILL.—Messrs Guard & Carlson have got the power for their Canning Mill in running order, and expect to have their machinery in complete trim for work by the second Monday in June. Farmers and sheep owners can make a note of this for their own accommodation. The nearest settlement of this kind is at St. Anthony. The gentlemen in charge of this business are experienced therein and we hope their new enterprise may prove an amply remunerative one.

This weather for the past week has been of such a nature as the almanac makers prognosticate as "changeable." Considerable rain has fallen and some beautiful days successfully intervened. For the wheat crop the spring has been a decided success. Vegetation is rapidly advancing and the vernal season can now be safely considered as under full sail for the port of summer.

The new stern-wheel steamer being built at Osceola, is gradually approaching completion. When finished and furnished, if done in accordance with present plans it will be a model of symmetry, beauty and power. Ben Campbell of Galena is said to have an interest in this craft, and will put in machinery of the newest and most improved pattern.

A fine large grain barge, also built at the same place, is moored near by. Altogether the "Navy Yard" is quite an institution and well worthy the interest and pride manifested therein by Osceolians.

DRIVERS.—Logs by the million feet are constantly running by town. On Thursday the rear of the Lower Snake and Pokagona drives went by. To-day the crew of O. & J. Bean & Co., are at work on the rapids below the dam. We hear of but one or two concerns that have "hung up," and they have but comparatively few logs and are on the headwaters.

PERSONAL.—Ed Durant, of Stillwater was in town this week endeavoring to interest parties in taking stock in a new gold mine discovered near the great cave. He had with him a fine specimen of the virgin ore with which that region is said to abound. Ed's statements and specimens can be relied on as the "naked truth."

STILLWATER ADVERTISEMENTS.—We give in another column the advertisements of Lull & Cornsah, and Carl & Co., of Stillwater. Both firms are composed of good, live, and accommodating business men, and will give our merchants and citizens good bargains at all times.

PAINTING, &c.—Mr. P. F. Cederholm has lately arrived in town and advertises to do Painting, Paper Hanging, Graining, &c. He is said to be a good workman, and will undoubtedly find plenty of work. Read his advertisement in another column.

HONORABLE ACCIDENT.—The clerk of the G. B. Knapp, informs us that John Parker, a raft pilot in the employ of L. E. Torinus, of Stillwater, had his leg cut off by a rope, day before yesterday, while engaged in "snubbing" a raft near Alma, on the Mississippi, a few miles below Prescott.

DINO.—At Chicago Lake, May 9th, of Consumption, Miss Hannah Hamilton, aged 25 years. Miss Hamilton was a sister of S. S. Hamilton of this place; and well and favorably known by a large circle of friends.

THE FLORENCE SAWING MACHINE.—Hiram Calkins, Agent for this valuable machine, has just received a few by express, and forwarded an order for more.

On the inside of to-day's paper will be found an excellent story, entitled "The Plaintiff Non-suited," also a large amount of interesting news and miscellany. It will repay a careful perusal.

LAW AND PHYSIC.—In the red office on Government St., Col. Folsom and Dr. Griswold have established their new headquarters.

Work has been commenced on the new store of S. Humphrey & Co.

LAND OFFICE.—The Receiver of the Land Office for the district comprising the counties of Burnett, Dallas, Dunn, Pierce, St. Croix, Polk and Pepin, furnishes us with the following statistics of that office for the months of January, Feb., March and April: The whole amount of land entered was 9,567 acres. Of this amount 5,470 acres were entered by actual settlers under the homestead law, and 4,088 acres with cash, scrip, and warrants. Nearly one half of the settlers under the homestead law located in the counties of Pepin and Dunn.

HENRY McCourt, has placed us under obligations to him for St. Paul papers. As the Knapp arrives on alternate days with the St. Paul mail, our readers will readily perceive that we appreciate such favors.

CHANGED.—The building occupied until recently as a drug store by Spicer & Griswold, has been purchased by D. A. Canaday and is being thoroughly overhauled, and the store-room enlarged.

Business has picked up to quite like old times. New buildings are being erected, drives are coming in and farmers make frequent calls on our live merchants.

Mn. W. H. C. Folsom has a new barge nearly completed at the Chicago Mill at this place.

There is said to be a new watch-dog in town.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—It has been discovered by thousands of housewives in all sections of the country that D. B. De Land & Co.'s Best Chemical Saleratus is the only Saleratus that will produce a uniform result, and give perfect satisfaction every time. If you try it, you will always buy it.
